

About Our Speakers

Audrey Resnick
MS, CCC-SLP/L

Audrey has been an ASHA-certified and licensed speech-language pathologist at the Hyde Park Day School (HPDS) in Northfield, Illinois since 2005. At HPDS she sees a speech and language caseload of elementary and middle school students with learning disabilities such as reading, writing and math impairments and works as part of an Integrated Services team. Based on the HPDS mission and curriculum, in 2006 she attended the educational workshop offered by Lindamood-Bell Learning Processes and continues to present and use Visualizing & Verbalizing® as a small group classroom lesson and in 1:1 therapy. She leads and supports the integration of concept imagery skills and strategies in the classroom in collaboration with teachers. Audrey has an M.S. in Communicative Disorders from California State University, Northridge, and has also worked in hospital and private clinic settings. She also works with Cognitive Connections/360 Thinking as an Executive Function Coach.

Jenice Reyes
MA, CCC-SLP/L

Jenice is a licensed Speech-Language Pathologist in the state of Illinois. She is ASHA-certified and a Wilson® Dyslexia Practitioner (W.D.P) WRS Level 1. She has a Master of Arts in Education, Learning Disabilities from Saint Xavier University (Chicago, IL) and a Masters of Arts in Speech-Language Pathology from Saint Louis University (St. Louis, MO). Jenice has worked at the Hyde Park Day School as a Learning Specialist from 2000-2003. In 2007, she returned to the Hyde Park Day School as one of the part-time Speech-Language Pathologists and is in private practice. She serves as an Adjunct Lecturer and supervises graduate clinicians from Northwestern University. In the summer of 2022, she started working at a non-profit organization located in the southside of Chicago and provided speech and language therapy for children up to 5 years old.
